

Hudson Oaks, TX Centralizes Code Enforcement Activities with Software

Software Connects and Standardizes Multiple Officers' Caseload

The Challenge:

Located between Fort Worth and Weatherford in East Parker County, the city of Hudson Oaks, TX is committed to being a partner in the success of citizens and businesses. Like many small cities, code enforcement is performed by several police officers who perform code enforcement as one of their many diverse duties, so coordination, communication and standardization of activities was a challenge.

The Solution:

Hudson Oaks found that mobile, hosted software was the perfect infrastructure to make remote administration and communication possible, with the additional benefits of standardizing case management procedures and centralizing case data. Comcate Code Enforcement Manager allows officers to coordinate activities and Comcate's advanced reporting functionality with case aging gives management insight into activities, trends and highlights repeat offenders.
