

My View

Building trust with your constituents should be a key focus of your local government's budgeting process. Access to reliable, up-to-date information allows you to be more transparent and confident in your budget presentation. Comcate's real-time data reporting gives you the reassurance that the budget you present to your citizens has a solid foundation.

Comcate also provides the resources you need to effectively develop a dialogue with your citizens. Whether you're having a conversation on Citizen Mobile Access or presenting a survey on your website, Comcate has the tools you need to facilitate ongoing feedback from your constituents.

Making a Complicated Budget Process Easy for Constituents to Understand

Your budget provides boundaries and expectations for spending and using resources, but if it's done well, your budget should also serve to build trust in your local government. Your constituents may not need every detailed data item that contributes to your budget development process, but they should have a general idea of how resources are allocated in your city and why they are allocated that way.
